Selangor Umno liaison chief Noh Omar has admitted that his political career would be over if BN performs worse in Selangor come the next general election.

"I take this as a challenge that will determine my political future.

"If I fail by achieving worse results in the 14th general election, it will be the end point of my political career," he was quoted as saying by Umno-owned Utusan Malaysia.

The challenge, Noh said, was for Umno to tailor its strategy towards urban, semi-urban and rural voters.

Noh said among his moves to better Umno's performance in Selangor are to strengthen the party's branches as well as to update its membership roll.

NONE "We have to correct the perception that when people mention Umno, it is linked to corruption," he said.

In a separate report, the daily quoted Sabah Umno liaison deputy chief Salleh Said Keruak as saying that Sabah Chief Minister Musa Aman (right) was still undecided about contesting for the Umno vice-presidency in the coming party polls.

"I would like to say that Musa... has not decided about the matter so the question of him contesting does not arise," he said.

Musa had been urged by fellow state Umno leaders against contesting in the party election as it may affect the incumbency of another Sabahan, Umno leader Shafie Apdal, who is also Rural and Regional Development Minister.
