YOURSAY 'MCA better be careful or their ministerships can be withdrawn.'

Zam: MCA 'pergi mampus' and take DAP along

Gerard Lourdesamy: So if I throw a pig's head in front of your gate, former information minister Zainuddin Maidin, is that justified?

This proves that DAP elected representative RSN Rayer was right when he called Umno 'celaka'.

From my recollection, MCA did condemn Rayer for his remark and demanded that he retract the offending word. They also condemned the Umno/Perkasa-sponsored goons who stormed the Penang state assembly.

Ahmad Zahid Hamidi is not behaving like a home minister but as an apologist for Malay/Muslim thugs and gangsters all acting in the name of Malay/Muslim supremacy since it feeds into Umno's agenda to hold on to its pathetic rural Malay support base.

In the process, the country is becoming lawless by the day and ripe for a civil war. Is that what Umno wants?

Remember by killing Chinese and Indians, this country is not going to get far and the economy will collapse overnight, obliterating the Umno cronies and their families. Then everybody can 'balik kampung' and 'tanam ubi' like the good old days.

Dont Just Talk: It is Umno members like Zainuddin Maidin that caused voters, including moderate Malays, to reject Umno Baru and BN during the 13th general election, winning less than 47 percent of popular votes.

Deadwood politicians like Zainuddin, who was defeated in Sungai Petani during the 12th GE, should have just stay retired.

For those BN leaders who continue with their old ways of not daring to open their mouth against Umno Baru leaders for their wrongdoings, their fate is sealed come the 14th general election.

MCA need not 'mampus' but will instead grow stronger when the leaders find courage to speak up without fear or favour, like DAP.

Hplooi: This is the mainstream mindset in Umno - that its party members own this country.

Every bona fide citizens (by operation of law and by birth; de-jure and jus soli even to the third generation) who are not constitutional Malays are just interlopers at the pleasure of the Umno 'tuans'.

Till today MCA and Gerakan still refuse to see the evil before their eyes.

Malaccan: MCA is in trouble now. Zam has spoken. Umno is angry at MCA for daring to raise their voice at an Umno VP (vice-president).

MCA better be careful or their ministerships can be withdrawn and replaced with more suitable positions in Putrajaya's garage.

Anyway, we expect to see silence from MCA's leadership to this attack. More so from their attack chihuahuas like their Youth committee members. It's noticeable that Zam didn't hit out at Gerakan or MIC.

So MCA must know by this where on the pecking order they are currently at - not very far from the bottom. It's just Zam's way of reminding MCA that by dressing them in clothes, Umno still recognise them to be their pet poodles.

Fairnsquare: Zam, nobody supports Rayer for calling Umno 'celaka.' It is wrong and shows a lack of decorum expected from a YB (yang berhormat).

He will have to face the sedition charge. But throwing a cow's head does not make the situation better. It only hurts all other Hindus who do not agree that Rayer should have used the term on Umno.

Now you are offending all the Chinese. You are making me angry and I am apolitical. Must you all just keep dividing the people?

Worried Sick: Zam, MCA has learnt its lesson. They are not going to be the bootlickers of Umno anymore. Get it, Zam?

You are history and no matter what you say, MCA is not going to be a stooge of Umno. If it is, it will be trashed at GE14.

Incidentally Zam, what is your motive behind all this MCA (and DAP) bashing? Trying to get in the cabinet again? It is already too bloated, and with you in it, it will become a circus.

Casey: A traitor is a betrayer - one who inflicts injury while professing loyalty - solely because, while professing loyalty to the race and religion, in actual fact he injures it by preaching hypocrisy.

The 'imaginary enemy' - Christians, Chinese, Indian, and the East Malaysians, however

'threatening' they're made out to be, on the other hand, are no traitors.

They are constructive and productive citizens of the land who but breathe the same air as their fellow Malay and Muslims citizens.

Sirach: Such nice words - "mercy" and "mampus". This erudite gentleman has, in his typical scholarly and polished way, articulated what most informed Malaysians already know - that MCA is a lost cause.

It is only fit to feed on the crumbs that fall off the table of the Umno Baru elites.
