

Covid-19 (June 22): New cases at 4,743, Selangor top with 1,566

Malaysiakini

22 June 2021

The number of new Covid-19 cases today is at 4,743, marking a slight increase from yesterday's tally of 4,611, according to the latest release by the Health Ministry.

It should be noted that the number of samples being taken for Covid-19 tests has been trending down since the start of the month. The Health Ministry calculates positivity rate on a weekly based. Details here.

The number of active Covid-19 cases is currently on a 17-day continuous downtrend, which is good.

The number of patients requiring intensive care also has been trending lower since peaking on June 16. The number of patients requiring a ventilator is largely unchanged over the past week.

- Active cases: 62,027
- Patients in ICU: 875
- Intubated: 445

States

Selangor has the highest number of fresh cases with 1,566 followed by Kuala Lumpur (635), Negri Sembilan (585) and Sarawak (507).

Aside from that Johor (239), Penang (195) Sabah (193), Malacca (167), Kelantan (165), Kedah (142), Pahang (131), Labuan (104), Perak (68), Terengganu (37), Putrajaya (7) and Perlis (2) all reported new cases.

Generally, most regions are slowly seeing the spread of Covid-19 slow down [view chart below].

As of yesterday the R-naught for the country was 0.96, down from 0.97 recorded the day before. As long as the the R-naught remains below 1.00, it would suggest that the spread of Covid-19 was decelerating, which is good.

The only region where the R-naught was more than 1.00 were Negeri Sembilan (1.02) and Perak (1.02).

The two regions with the lowest R-naught are Terengganu (0.68), Pahang (0.77) and Penang (0.79).

Deaths

The Health Ministry reported another 77 deaths attributed to Covid-19 today. The cumulative total has reached 4,554.

Selangor (32) reported the most number of deaths. The new deaths followed by Negeri Sembilan (12), Johor (8), Sarawak (7), Kuala Lumpur (5), Malacca (4), Labuan (3), Sabah (3), Perlis (1), Terengganu (1) and Pahang (1).

Cumulatively, Klang Valley region - Selangor, Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya - has reported 1,806 deaths due to Covid-19 or 39.7 percent of the national total.

There were four victims who were age 40 and below and another 11 with no known comorbidity. There were 11 victims who were pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Details of the victims are documented on Malaysiakini's Covid-19 tracker page.
