Prime Minister Najib Razak will arrive in SibU tomorrow for a two-day working visit.

On arrival at about 4.30pm, he is expected to proceed to a leading hotel here to attend a gathering with the United Association of Chinese Secondary Schools and the United Association of Chinese Primary Aided Schools.

He will then join the local Muslim community for the Maghrib and Isyak prayers at the An-Nur Mosque before witnessing the Tua Pek Kong parade at the Hoover Square.

Therafter, Najib will launch the RTM Broadcast via Satellite Programme for Sabah and Sarawak and 1Malaysia computer at a leading hotel here before attending a grand dinner with the local business community at the same venue.

He will start his second day by having breakfast with members of several youth organisations at a leading hotel.

Najib's programme continues with a walkabout around the SibU Central Market before visiting Rumah Sebastian Ungoh at Pasai, about 20 kilometres from here.

The prime minister will be attending a luncheon with the government officers here before leaving for Kuala Lumpur in the afternoon.
