

Ridhuan Tee echoing Nazi philosophy

Speaking as someone of the older generation who was born in Europe just after the war, I am well-versed in the appalling rhetoric and racial slander and abuse that accompanied the activities of people like Hitler, Goebbels, Himmler, Goering and others.

These vile people who killed and murdered so many and caused the loss of over fifty million souls in the Second World War either eventually committed suicide or were executed by the Nuremberg trials.

Fortunately, I am not often reminded of the speeches of these persons but I am now shocked at how I hear the same dreadful utterances and rationalisations coming out of the mouth of this Ridhuan Tee character.

He espouses the very same brand of racial hatred and characterisation that typified the behaviour of Hitler and his cronies in their eventual ethnic cleansing by murder and gassing of millions of Jews, Poles, Gypsies, Slavs and Non-Aryans in general.

Is this what Ridhuan wants?

That all non-Malays (non-Aryans) are regarded as unclean and sub-human and are therefore to be driven out of the country (if they are lucky) and perhaps incarcerated or worse if they are not so lucky and choose to stay in their country of birth?

Perhaps Ridhuan should take some time to look back sixty years to the film footage of Hitler's speeches and very possibly he might see himself mirrored there.
