The Kelantan menteri besar said it did not contravene Islamic law and was the best way to get to know Muslims better.

"There is nothing wrong for a non-Muslim woman to speak in a surau as long as she is decently dressed," he told reporters after presenting Aidifitri aid to orphans at Rumah Puteri Harapan Taman Sabariah in Kota Bahru today.

Nik Aziz was commenting action by Serdang Member of Parliament Teo Nie Ching who delivered a speech from the prayer area of Surau Al-Huda in Kajang Sentral.

The Sultan of Selangor, Sultan Sharafuddin Idris Shah who is angry and disappointed with the incident urged the Selangor Islamic Council (Mais) to investigate the matter.
