The 1Malaysia Youth Graduands Club (Kelab Belia Graduan 1Malaysia) today lodged a police report over the distribution of brochures said to contain seditious words against the federal constitution.

Its secretary-general Ezaruddin Abdul Rahman said the brochures titled Perlembagaanku (My Constitution), claimed that the people had the right to amend the federal constitution if they voted for members of parliament capable of doing so.

"We were made to understand that the brochures were being distributed in several institutions of higher learning in the Klang Valley and some colleges in Kedah.

"We also believe that the brochures were sponsored by an anti-government foreign non-governmental organisation," he told reporters after lodging the report at the Serdang police station.

He called on the police and government to take immediate action on the matter as continuous distribution of the brochures could influence the minds of the younger generation.

Ezaruddin also asked the police to probe into the sale of a book titled "The March to Putrajaya - Malaysia's New Era Is At Hand" authored by Kim Quek.

"We want the Home Ministry to revoke the sale of such a book, which we deem as rubbish because it contains personal attacks and defamation of the country's leaders, besides touching on racial issues," he said.

He also believed that the 361-page book had been in the market for quite some time.
