

Machap - whom do we vote for?

I refer to the letter My protest vote against MCA.

MCA is not doing anything and so is the DAP. Both parties will suddenly appear when there is an election. Most of the time they are nowhere to be seen or heard.

Look at the Machap by-election today. It is very obvious that if there was no by-election, they wouldn't even bother to step into the district to lend a hand.

What is the objective of these political parties?

MCA - Well known for keeping quiet. They have no idea what is right or wrong. It is really not a question of when to voice concern or when not to, but the result is always the same - they remain quiet. That and attack the opposition when there is an election.

DAP - No sense of direction in where they are heading and what they are fighting for most of the time. Changes policies like we change our clothes.

Today they attack MCA, tomorrow they join forces with other opposition parties without a proper understanding of what these other opposition parties are fighting for.

These two political parties are only interested in securing seats in Parliament, attacking their enemies and spread rumours about them. How often do we see political parties lending a helping hand to the various communities?

I do agree with the writer of the letter above, but who do we vote for then?
