PKR de facto leader Anwar Ibrahim said the party is gaining ground in its chances to wrest the Batu Sapi seat from BN.

"I would say we are between 38 to 40 percent in gaining ground to win.

NONE" This is a slow process (to gain trust of the voters). I am catching a plane there now to help in the campaign," he told reporters outside the High Court in Kuala Lumpur today.

Anwar is scheduled to speak at several ceramah within the Batu Sapi seat.

PKR is embroiled in a three-way contest for the Batu Sapi parliamentary seat.

It has Ansari Abdullah as its candidate, while BN/PBS has placed Linda Tsen as its candidate.

SAPP president Yong Teck Lee, who was in political oblivion for a 1999 election offence, is the other candidate in a three-way fight.
