PKR vice-president Mustaffa Kamil Ayub will continue in his campaign to run for the party's deputy presidency in the current party polls.

In his brazen 48-hour ultimatum to the party's central elections committee (CEC) that expired yesterday, he had called for them to halt the polls, claiming irregularities and malpractices.

"But after I had met (CEC chairperson) Dr Molly Cheah yesterday and she made three commitments to me so I've decided to make a compromise.

"I will continue to run, although under protest," he said, stressing that he is not a "troublemaker".
