Yesterday Anwar had said that he had evidence implicating Inspector-General of Police Musa and AG Abdul Gani Patail in the misconduct, including fabrication of evidence in the cases launched against him after his sacking from government 10 years ago.

He added that a fresh police report lodged against him for sodomy was a result of "interested parties to attack me in retaliation" over this evidence in his possession.

The report alleging sodomy was filed by Anwar's aide, 23-year-old Mohd Saiful Bukhari Azlan, yesterday.

Anwar claimed that the accusation against him was a "complete fabrication". PKR also said that Saiful was arrested and forced by the police to lodge such a report against Anwar.

Anwar is presently seeking refuge at the Turkish embassy after fearing assassination attempts on him.

Wan Azizah: Aide was volunteer staff

This morning Wan Azizah said that Saiful was a volunteer who joined to help the party during the general election period three months ago.

Wan Azizah also added that Anwar "was taking it well" with the latest happening.

The police have denied that Saiful was arrested and forced to fabricate evidence as claimed by PKR.

Prime Minister Abdullah Ahmad Badawi has also denied that the government was behind the new allegation against Anwar and he would let the police investigate the matter and take the necessary action.

They show Saiful posing with Agriculture and Agro-based Minister Mustapa Mohamed, Tourism Minister Azalina Othman and Domestic Trade and Consumer Affairs Minister Shahrir Abdul Samad.

She said it proved a link with the government, which was trying to divert attention away from problems such as fuel price hikes.

"We will take to the streets if they arrest him," social activist Marvin Madahvan told AFP.

James Chin, a political analyst from Malaysia's Monash campus, said more mud-slinging would emerge as the date approaches by which Anwar said he would seize power.

"As we head towards September 16, Anwar's own deadline on when he will topple the government, more and more political things will be coming out of the closet from both sides," he told AFP.

"In all probability, these sorts of events are designed to distract the population from real issues such as the slowdown in the economy and the rising fuel prices."
