TEMERLOH -- Minister in the Prime Minister's Department Jamil Khir Baharom has described as preposterous PAS' claim that voters who supported the party would be promised heaven while those who backed Barisan Nasional would face the God's wrath.

"We always pray and hope that they (PAS) will repent and return to the true teachings of Islam," he told reporters during his campaign trail in Felda Jengka 23 near here last night.

Jamil Khir also joined Jengka 23 settlers at a tahlil worship and Yasin recitation before speaking at a ceramah in Jengka 25.

He said second prime minister Abdul Razak Hussein left a legacy to the people, including Felda which had given a future to the poor from all over the country.

"Decades of planning have enabled the forest to be cleared for Felda settlers to move in and toil the land. The land scheme had made a big impact on settlers as they get together to enjoy a good life here (Felda)," said Jamil Khir.

He said Razak's vision would be continued by his son, Najib, who was inspired by his father, to take Felda to greater heights as the sixth prime minister.
