KOTA BAHARU -- The opposition Pakatan pact is getting weaker by the day with not clear policies as to where it is heading, said People's Progressive Party (PPP) president M. Kayveas.

As such, he urged the people not to fall for Pakatan's empty promises and reject its parties in the next election.

"Do you want to continue to be ruled by Pakatan which cannot bring about any changes to improve your wellbeing," he said when closing Kelantan PPP's annual convention here on Sunday.

He added that Kelantan would be better off if it got rid of PAS and returned the BN in the next election.

Pakatan, made up of PKR, DAP and PAS, control four states - Kelantan, Kedah, Penang and Selangor.
