It is regrettable that a row occurred just before Prime Minister Najib Tun Razak arrived to officiate the ground breaking ceremony for SJKC Sg Long. While the Prime Minister is sincere in bringing good tidings to the Chinese community, there are still some quarters who are reluctant in accepting these goodwill and resort to creating all types of insensible acts to hamper the entire event from proceeding smoothly.

The actions by DAP's entourage of present and past municipal councillors had tarnished their image as the ruling coalition of Selangor. It should be pointed out that DAP has never delivered on their promises pertaining to Chinese education. When they cannot debunk the fact that BN had delivered on our promises on Chinese education, DAP became unhappy and deemed BN's contributions as a threat. This could be one of the reasons they tried to cause unease at the said ceremony.

While the Prime Minister was bringing good news to the Chinese community by granting 2.9 acres of land to construct a Chinese primary school in Sungai Long, I am perplexed as to why the said Kajang municipal councillors were so unhappy to the extent they wore green attire and attended the event to cause disruption in a high profile manner. It is obvious that they intended to churn publicity by creating issues which they best know themselves.

The Pakatan Rakyat state government in Selangor has never kept to their promises to the constituents made during the 2008 general elections, especially on issues relating to Chinese education. What they have delivered is none other than lip services for almost four years. They have never allocated any land to construct Chinese primary schools.

All DAP state assemblymen in the Selangor state government should be admonished for their behaviour emanating trouble which causes people to feel awkward. As elected representatives, they should not always provide lip services only. Neither should they pinpoint others. On the contrary, they should learn to serve the rakyat well so that the trust and support given to them by voters would not be rendered in vain.
