

Funniest anecdotes

CALLING all aspiring writers out there. Here's your chance to get your stories published in Collection of Malaysian Anecdotes by the Perdana Leadership Foundation.

The Perdana Leadership Foundation and MPH Bookstores are compiling Collection of Malaysian Anecdotes, and are looking for your runniest stories about life in the country.

It could be about anything or anyone - your husband or wife, the mechanic who convinced you to change everything except the steering wheel in your car, or your friendly neighbourhood DVD seller.

Proceeds from the book will go to the Perdana Leadership Foundation, an independent non-profit archive and research centre dedicated to the history of Malaysia. Visit www.mix.fm for registration forms and rules. Closing date is on Oct 31.
