

> 50 YEARS AGO TODAY

'Islam does not need changing'

NST- 22/7/2007

KUALA LUMPUR, Sun. — The principal of the Malayan Muslim College in Klang, Dr. Mohamed Abdul Rauf, said last night that the Islamic moral system was the most suited for modern days.

He asked Muslims to stop writing to the Press demanding reforms in the system.

Speaking at the RfDA training centre in Petaling Jaya, Dr. Rauf said: "Islam is not rigid but reasonably flexible. If people follow it, they can establish the most advanced, enlightened, scientific and civilised nation in this modern civilisation.

"It is only when Muslims are misled about their moral principles and when they are divided and disunited and thereby weakened that they have become backward politically and economically."

New Bill on pensions

KUALA LUMPUR, Sun. — Government officers in the Federation whose retirements are accelerated by Malayanisation can cease to contribute to the Widows and Orphans Pensions Fund.

Under the new Bill published today they can make a final contribution or withdraw part of their contributions before retirement.

Pension rights can also be granted to adopted children.

'Islam does not need changing'

KUALA LUMPUR, Sun. — The principal of the Malayan Muslim College in Klang, Dr. Mohamed Abdul Rauf, said last night that the Islamic moral system was most suited for modern days. He asked Muslims to stop writing to the Press demanding reforms in the system.

Speaking at the RfDA training centre in Petaling Jaya, Dr. Rauf said: "Islam is not rigid but reasonably flexible. If people follow it, they can establish the most advanced, enlightened, scientific and civilised nation in this modern civilisation.

"It is only when Muslims are misled about their moral principles and when they are divided and disunited and thereby weakened that they have become backward politically and economically."

Under the new Bill published today they can make a final contribution or withdraw part of their contributions before retirement. Pension rights can also be granted to adopted children.

THE BILL ON PENSIONS