3) He must say that those who have stolen money from the Malaysian people must and will be brought to justice. In order to find the truth, the inspector-general of police (IGP) and the attorney-general (AG) must be fired.

As for Bersih?

Maria Chin Abdullah says that she will lead Bersih 5. It probably will be held, as always, in Kuala Lumpur, so it will be a waste of time. In KL, she will be “preaching to the choir”, as the saying goes. To get rid of Najib, you have to get out of KL and go into the Malay heartland - and make sure that they know the truth. And who better to do that than Mahathir? In the Malay heartland, Mahathir is still famous, loved, and respected. So is Anwar.

So here is the question - is Mahathir willing to go into that heartland and meet the people - and tell them in Malay that Najib is a crook who has stolen their money? Is Mahathir willing to tell the people that Anwar - whom so many of the Malays in the countryside also still love - was unjustly imprisoned by Najib?

Is Bersih willing to organise that? And really make a difference? If so, then for the sake of Malaysia's future, I will stand with Mahathir.
