PETALING JAYA: While visiting his former information officer at the National Heart Institute (IJN), Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Razak also paid a visit to a fellow leader, PAS president Datuk Seri Abdul Hadi Awang.

Najib visited his former information officer Datuk Nasir Safar yesterday and then went to visit Abdul Hadi, who was receiving treatment in the same hospital shortly after.

"While in IJN, I was informed that Datuk Seri Hadi was also being treated there, and I went to visit him," he wrote in a Facebook post. He also posted photos of the two men.

"I pray that Allah SWT will grant him the best of health," he added in his posting.

Najib earlier went to Kuala Lumpur General Hospital for a follow-up inspection of his right hand.

The Prime Minister underwent minor surgery on the hand on Saturday to remove a small benign growth.
