PETALING JAYA: Parents are continuing their calls for the Teaching of Science and Mathematics in English (PPSMI) policy to be retained.

Concerned Parents of Selangor (CPS) coordinator Shamsudin Hamid said the group was planning to submit petitions signed by parents to Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak on Nov 29.

"We're targeting 10,000 signatures and I think we can easily achieve this. Alongside the petitions, we also want to take five primary school pupils to submit their handwritten letters - with their parents' permission of course," he said.

"These signatures represent parents in Selangor and Kuala Lumpur, and the petitions will be submitted en masse," he said.
