MARAN, Dec 23 (Bernama) -- The National Library Malaysia today launched the 1Malaysia Information Literacy Module in an effort to enhance information searching skill more effectively, accurately and correctly.

The launching ceremony was performed by Deputy Minister of Information, Communications and Culture Senator Datuk Maglin Dennis D'Cruz at Sekolah Kebangsaan Padang Luit, near here.

The module aims to expose the public to skills in searching, managing and using printed information sources or the electronic media through the conventional and modern information searching methods.

Speaking to reporters later, Maglin said the module was an effort by the National Library to provide guidance to the public in terms of skill in searching and choosing information to be read.

"It is important because it will determine the quality of information to be stored in our mind which will subsequently determine the way we think and act," he said.
