GENTING HIGHLANDS, Oct 1 (Bernama) -- Corporate bodies nationwide should implement corporate social responsibility (CSR) programmes to help underprivileged groups, in line with the 1Malaysia concept, said the prime minister's wife.

Datin Seri Rosmah Mansor said, as caring corporate bodies, they should inculcate the culture of contributing back to society.

She said this at a special event to fete over 500 underprivileged children from Selangor, Kuala Lumpur and Pahang, organised by a private company here today.

Rosmah said, as a country with a caring society, it must be ensured that children were surrounded by communities which cared.

She said the organising of such event showed that no one would be left out as each and every Malaysian citizen was an asset to the country.
