KUALA LUMPUR, Oct 3 (Bernama) -- The Dewan Rakyat's third sitting this year got underway today at the temporary venue here amid slight confusion.

The meeting hall was smaller compared to the main Parliament building, which is under renovation.

Members of Parliament were seen looking for the entrance and exit doors.

Some media personnel who were not used to the working conditions at the temporary venue chose to work from the main building.

The temporary venue, a single storey structure located behind the main building, used to be a multi-purpose hall.

The current session is scheduled to take place until Dec 1.
