KUALA SELANGOR, Sept 22 (Bernama) -- Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak said Thursday the willingness to bring change to the country will help to win support from the people.

A government daring to effect change opens the minds of the people and gives them fresh hope, he said at a meeting of Barisan Nasional leaders and the people in conjunction with Aidilfitri celebrations here.

"We will not promise change. We will bring change and deliver change," the BN chairman and Umno president told the gathering of more than 10,000 people.

Najib said that BN had to work harder to win the general election especially in Selangor where the contest is expected to be stiffer this time.

He stressed the importance of fielding credible candidates in the general election who he said were humble before the people and could get close to them.

Najib said the opposition had spoken of reformation, but had got nowhere and not kept many of the promises they made to the people.

"We must remember who told the biggest lie three years ago that BN would fall," Najib said, apparently alluding to the boast opposition leader Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim made that PKR, PAS and the DAP would form the government with defections from Barisan MPs after the 2008 general election.

The gathering was attended by 170 BN elected representatives.
