PUTRAJAYA, Nov 11 (Bernama) -- The Barisan Nasional's decision not to impose age or term limits for its "winnable candidates" for the upcoming 13th general election (GE) is aimed at ensuring candidates fielded by the coalition are those voters want, said BN secretary-general Datuk Seri Tengku Adnan Tengku Mansor.

Tengku Adnan, who is also Umno secretary-general and Member of Parliament for Putrajaya, said Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak's announcement yesterday on this had put to rest perceptions held by some that "old candidates would be put to pasture".

"The air has been cleared yesterday, and I am confident that the BN candidates to be fielded would be welcomed by voters," he told reporters after opening Utusan Malaysia's Putrajaya bureau here today.

Yesterday, Najib had announced that the BN would not impose age or term limits on its candidates for the coming GE so long as they were deemed "winnable".

Najib, who is also BN chairman, said as the coming GE would be tough, what was important was that the person nominated would be the best candidate for the BN.
