KOTA KINABALU, Feb 17 (Bernama) -- Sabah Chief Minister Datuk Seri Musa Aman today called on the people in the state to continue giving their supports to Barisan Nasional (BN), the party which had carried out transformation to provide them with better living conditions.

He said the people should not waste their time politicking to the extent of affecting the efforts to improve the people's wellbeing and weaken the existing government.

"I believe with commitment and concerns shown by the country's leaders, especially our prime minister, as well as our hard work and sincerity and the support from the people from all walks of life, we will be able to further develop the rural areas in the state, and improve the people's wellbeing more effectively."

He said this at the launch of Kg Nala mini aquaculture estate in Lahad Datu by Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak here today.

His speech text was faxed to Bernama here.

Musa also expressed confidence that the people of Sabah were smart enough to choose the best leader and political party to represent them and that they would not do so based on sentiment, emotion and nostalgia.

He said the state government would also like to thank the federal government for implementing various programmes at the federal and state levels, as well as for the annual development allocation and the 1Malaysia People's Aid (BR1M).

"Datuk Seri (Najib), I would like to share with you what the people have said to me. They said thank you PM, thank you PM, thank you BN. So Datuk Seri, you need not worry. We will work harder and continue supporting BN," he said.

On the mini estate programme, Musa said it was part of the long-term plan to complement other plans implemented by the government to channel aid and assistance to the targeted group such as the 1Azam programme, 1Azam monthly allowance and BR1M.
