PENAMPANG, March 11 (Bernama) -- United Pasok Momogun Kadazandusun Murut Organisation (UPKO) president Tan Sri Bernard Dompok took the opposition to task for making misleading, selective and inaccurate statements in trying to get the people's support.

He said most of their statements did not reflect the true picture and full information on policies and development programmes implemented by the government for the benefit of the people.

"What will happen if the people are misled by inaccurate reports? They will become confused...confused by misleading reports so much so they will not be able to make the right choice (especially in the general election)," he said when opening a Komuniti 1Malaysia programme organised by the Sabah Information Department at Buhavan Square here Saturday night.

Dompok, who is also Plantation Industries and Commodities Minister, added that the people now were "faced with information overload" brought through various channels including the new media, blogs and social websites.

As such, he said he hoped the Komuniti 1Malaysia programme undertaken by the Information Department could help in countering the misinformation spread by the opposition.
