KOTA KINABALU, March 19 (Bernama) -- The Sabah Umno Youth adopted an informal approach to get themselves acquainted with the problem faced by the people and to find the best solution for them, its chief Awang Kadin Tang said.

He said that the relaxed approach provided a different atmosphere compared to formal meetings or ceramah to engage with the target group.

Such approach, he said, was a good way to get to know the problems or issues affecting the people.

"Through a personal touch like this, they would feel appreciated and not reluctant to voice out their concerns. If we talk to the grassroots leaders, we will be able to know the problems faced in certain areas," he said in a statement.

Citing an informal visit by the Papar Umno youth in Kampung Santing, Pengalat Kecil, Papar, yesterday, he said it would be good if such programme could be expanded to other divisions.
