KUALA LUMPUR, March 26 (Bernama) -- Former Umno Supreme Council member Tan Sri Abdul Kadir Sheikh Fadzir, who resigned from the party last week, said today he wants to return to active politics.

He said he would focus primarily on continuing the struggle of past Umno leaders, based on the "values", through the Angkatan Amanah Merdeka NGO of which he is a member.

"I can also continue the struggle by joining the NGOs which invite me to give talks," he told reporters at his office here.

Abdul Kadir, who had been a member of Umno since 1956, resigned from the party on March 19.

Asked whether he would accept any invitation, including from Opposition Leader Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim, to join the opposition, he said: "Many have persuaded me to join (the opposition) but I try not to make a decision based on persuasion.

"I am with the (Amanah) NGO. I have yet to decide on other matters. If they are persuasive enough, I may take up the offer," he said.
