

Group dares Wan Azizah to sue Aminah
New Straits Times
24 April 2012

KUALA LUMPUR: Jaringan Melayu Malaysia (JMM) national director Farahhana Jamaluddin has urged Parti Keadilan Rakyat (PKR) to sue its former Penang wanita chief Aminah Abdullah if her remarks against the party leadership were untrue.

Farahhana yesterday questioned why PKR president Datin Seri Dr Wan Azizah Wan Ismail and Shamsidar Taharin (PKR deputy president Azmin Ali's wife) chose to remain silent on the relationship between their daughters.

"Why have they (Dr Wan Azizah and Shamsidar) not sued Aminah for alleging that Nurul Izzah Anwar and Farah Affifah Azmin are related by blood?" she said yesterday.

Farahhana said Dr Wan Azizah needed to stop "being a hypocrite" after previously refusing to sue Datuk Shazryl Eskay Abdullah over the sex video involving her husband, opposition leader Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim.

"Until now, she has also refused to swear under oath that her husband is not bisexual. Merely dismissing the allegations as a political conspiracy is not enough and is a stale excuse," Farahhana said.

She urged Dr Wan Azizah to dispel the allegations once and for all by taking legal action against Aminah.

"If she (Dr Wan Azizah) still refuses, then she might as well declare PKR a free sex party," she added.

Meanwhile, Dr Wan Azizah could not be reached for comment.

Copyright © 2012 The New Straits Times Press (Malaysia) Berhad.

Source: <http://www.nst.com.my/nation/general/group-dares-wan-azizah-to-sue-aminah-1.77083>