KUALA LUMPUR, April 3 (Bernama) -- The Chairman of the Parliamentary Select Committee (PSC) on Electoral Reforms, Datuk Seri Dr Maximus Ongkili, is sad that the committee's final report was passed without debate at the Dewan Rakyat due to a minority report issue brought up by the opposition.

He said final report was passed too fast and was not tantamount to time and energy spent by those involved, including three opposition members of Parliament (MPs), in the committee.

"I'm sad because a lot of time was spent and a lot of work was done for this report. Not only me, but all members have spent time all the way until the last meeting and agreeing to 82 percent of the 22 recommendations, but (some) played the game of politics towards the end.
