KUALA LUMPUR, April 4 (Bernama) -- The Sessions Court here Wednesday fixed May 21 for the case mention of businessman Datuk Shamsubahrin Ismail who is charged with cheating National Feedlot Corporation (NFC) director Datuk Seri Dr Mohamad Salleh Ismail of RM1.755 million.

Judge Rozilah Salleh set the date to enable Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission (MACC), prosecution unit head, Datuk Abdul Razak Musa to decide if they want to pursue the case or drop the charges.

The two-day case, which was to have commenced today, was postponed after Abdul Razak informed the court that they had received a letter of representation from the defence on March 14 to review the charges against Shamsubahrin, 46.

The court further set July 16 to 27 for the trial.

Earlier in the proceedings today, Abdul Razak told the court that the prosecution received Shamsubahrin's mobile phone from the defence early in March for the purpose of investigating its SMS content.
