KUALA LUMPUR, March 7 (Bernama) -- Employers in the country should support the minimum wage policy to be implemented by the government soon and not object to it or give negative comments, said Peninsular Malaysia Transport Workers Union president Datuk Zainal Rampak.

He said claims by employers that they would go under if the policy was implemented was more looking after their own interests than the welfare of their workers.

"This an oft heard excuse, but employers continue with their businesses as normal because Malaysia is peaceful, politically stable and most importantly is free of strikes," he said in a statement here Wednesday.
