KUALA LUMPUR, April 29 (Bernama) -- RapidKL, the provider of Klang Valley's LRT and bus services, will take legal action against the organiser of Saturday's rally in the city over the huge losses its incurred due to alleged rough acts by the participants.

The Company wants appropriate compensation for its losses which included severe damage to its assets, loss in revenue at the Masjid Jamek LRT station after the demonstrators rushed through LRT gates without paying and loss of revenue from its bus operations.

"We incurred huge losses like our damaged roller shutters and gates, toilet doors as well as people using our services without paying and our bus operations were also severely affected because of road closures," Syarikat Prasarana Berhad (Prasarana) Group managing director Datuk Shahril Mokhtar, said in a statement.

Shahril said the company will make a police report against the organiser and believed that other transport providers and retailers also experienced physical damages and revenue losses as well.

He said Prasarana's personnel also were hit with mineral water bottles and verbally abused by a group of protesters when trying to help a fainted passenger at the station.
