KOTA KINABALU, 30 Oct — A Barisan Nasional (BN) government is the ideal choice to lead the country, Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin was reported by Bernama Online as saying here today.

The deputy prime minister (picture) said Malaysians are better cared for and thrive under a BN-led administration, adding that the country had progressed considerably since achieving independence.

He also said that the prevailing peace, stability and prosperity were the result of “the wisdom of our leaders” as supported by those who “uphold the principles of cooperation, unity and mutual respect”.

BN leaders had recognised early on that cultural and religious diversity was a strength that aided in the country’s development and that their success in uniting and bringing about positive improvements to the population had been lauded the world over, he added.

Muhyiddin said BN leaders had proved political theorists, who claim that plural societies are backward and riddled with strife, wrong.

He also said Malaysians had accepted their inherent differences in order to move forward and embrace development.

The deputy prime minister added that the country’s poverty rate had been reduced since independence as a result of BN policies implemented to counter “the greed of colonialists” who had siphoned away its wealth.

Muhyiddin also reiterated that the government continues to bear the cost of basic goods through subsidies in order to counter the rising cost of living currently faced by Malaysians, stressing that Malaysia is the only country in the world to do so.
