KOTA KINABALU, May 26 (Bernama) -- Barisan Nasional (BN) members must always be ready to counter the lies and propaganda spread in the cyberworld by the opposition in trying to influence the people's thinking, said Sabah Umno deputy chief Datuk Seri Mohd Salleh Said.

He said the opposition saw social networking sites like Facebook, Twitter and blogs as useful tools for the purpose.

"We (BN) are now faced with a cyber war which we must win," he said when opening a workshop for Sabah BN cybertroopers here last night.

He added that in this information age, the old ways of doing things were no longer effective and that in order to win over the people, especially the younger generation, BN members must be "on top of their game".

The three-day workshop is being attended by 80 participants.
