KUALA LUMPUR, June 12 Jun (Bernama) -- The National Fatwa Committee has never issued an edict to ban the street demonstration last April 28 as claimed by the opposition.

Deputy Minister in the Prime Minister's Department Datuk Mashitah Ibrahim said the committee had on the other hand issued a media advisory following a meeting held by the committee early last month.

"The members unanimously agreed that an advisory on the participation of Muslims in the demonstrations deemed destructive and disastrous to the country be issued through the media," she said, responding to the adjournment speech by Ahmad Kasim (PKR-Kuala Kedah) on the edict to ban the street demonstration allegedly issued by the committee.

Mashitah further stressed that the committee members appointed by the Conference of Rulers had no political interests other than that related to Islam and the ummah.
