KUALA LUMPUR: The Government has guaranteed that it will provide the best opportunities for youths through its systematic transformation plans, said Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak.

"Behind the principle of 1Malaysia, aside from instilling unity among races, we will conduct programmes that will allow youths to express themselves to reach their highest level," he said in his closing speech in front of some 500 youth leaders during the Youth Leader Convention here Thursday.

The younger generation, he said, can rely on the Government for a better future as Barisan Nasional leaders had planned a systematic transformation programmes to move the country forward to become a developed nation.

"We are all for you and we want the youths to be prepared to face future challenges and uncertainties," he said.

He also noted that countries which have experienced revolution or drastic changes were now faced with uncertainties.

"We are in a transition period, and if we do not do something without careful planning, the country will face chaos and things will become worse without a systematic transformation system," he said.
