PUTRAJAYA: The Look East policy adopted by Malaysia in 1982 should be continued as the nation can prosper by emulating the work ethics of the Japanese and the Koreans, said Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad.

The policy was the brainchild of the former prime minister, introduced during his premiership.

"In hindsight, we have made the right decision in looking to the east.

"One day, perhaps, we will achieve the same (success). Vision 2020 can be achieved if Malaysians truly want to and if we look to the (work ethics of the) east," Dr Mahathir said in his keynote address at the 30 Years Celebration of the Look East Policy International Seminar here Saturday.
