KUALA LUMPUR, July 11 (Bernama) -- The excellent performance shown by the Barisan Nasional (BN) government has won increasing support of the Malay community for Umno, said Cheras Umno Division head Datuk Syed Ali Alhabshee.

He said the people's confidence was demonstrated through the overwhelming response in every programme organised by BN and Umno, while the implementation of the government transformation programmes had also benefitted them.

"Therefore, Umno had to maintain the excellent performance in facing the next general election," he told Bernama when contacted Wednesday.

He said the support began to be seen two years after the 2008 general election when Najib introduced the walk-about programmes, which managed to give good impact on the people.

Syed Ali, who is also the Federal Territory Umno liaison secretary, said the people did not want to be deceived by the opposition, which clearly failed to fulfill their promises in the states under their rule.
