KUALA LUMPUR, June 28 (Bernama) -- A lawmaker today urged the government to introduce the demerit system for Singapore drivers to ensure they respected Malaysia's traffic laws.

Raising the matter when Debating the Road Transport Act (Amendment) Bill 2012 in the Dewan Rakyat Thursday, Datuk Abdul Rahman Dahlan (BN-Kota Belud) said most Singapore drivers generally heeded the traffic laws in the city-state but "it was a different story when they came over to Malaysia".

He also questioned the attitude of local enforcement agencies which was described as "soft" when it came to drivers from Singapore.

The situation could be rectified by introducing the system, he said.

Another part of the bill pertaining to making a left turn at cross-junctions when safe, saw backbenchers going at "each other's throats".
