KUALA LUMPUR, July 25 (Bernama) -- The 13th general election will be held depending on the success of Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak in fulfilling his promises to the people, according to an academician.

Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) School of Social, Development and Environment chairman, Assoc Prof Dr Fuad Mohd Jali, said Najib wanted the people to enjoy the benefits from the transformation programmes implemented by the government.

"I think Najib wants to ensure 2/3 majority win for Barisan Nasional (BN). He also wants to ensure that all promises, such as going to the ground to meet the people, are fulfilled. We can feel it already."

He said this during question time at the roundtable discussion on '13th General Election: Who Will the Malaysians Vote For?' organised by the Political, Security and International Affairs Cluster of the National Professors Council here.

As such, Dr Fuad said he expected the 13th general election to be held around November this year or after the Chinese New Year celebration next year.
