SANDAKAN, Oct 8 (Bernama) -- Sabah Chief Minister Datuk Seri Musa Aman said opposition leaders were in politics just for power but not capable of serving the people effectively.

"Look at Selangor, once a progressive state, but when Pakatan Rakyat took over, they failed to resolve problems faced by the people. Hence, the people should not readily believe and be influenced by the opposition's lies," he said after visiting the Taman Airport election machinery here today.

He said the opposition were just pulling wool over the people's eyes with their claims that there had been no development under the Barisan Nasional (BN) government.

Musa cited major projects like the Education Hub in Sungai Batang that was implemented in the district as an example.

"In the past, villages did not have paved or concrete roads, or electricity and water supply, but we have provided all these facilities now," he cited.
