SHAH ALAM, Dec 2 (Bernama) -- The Sultan of Selangor, Sultan Sharafuddin Idris Shah has urged that his position as the head of religion in the state not be twisted by certain quarters just to gain publicity.

Sultan Sharafuddin said as head of religion in the state, he must ensure that Islam continued to be respected and placed at a high level in all affairs of the state.

"During my installation as the Sultan of Selangor, I had pledged to protect the good name and sanctity of Islam. Sincerely, I hope to see the mosque institution contribute to progress and development in Selangor.

"I am also responsible for ensuring that the lives of the Muslims, especially the Malays, be safeguarded," Sultan Sharafuddin said when opening a seminar on mosque management at the Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah Mosque, here, Sunday.

The Sultan therefore urged that his concern over the mosque institution not be misunderstood.
