VIENTIANE: Aid will be provided to those affected by the floods, the Prime Minister has assured the people.

Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak said the Government had made preparations for the floods and that aid would be immediately given to the affected people.

"We are prepared for it and will render all possible assistance. This weather uncertainty is related to climate change and affects all countries in different ways. You can see that no country is immune to it," he told reporters here.

Heavy rainfall and flooding has already started and has severely affected the people in Johor, Perak, Selangor and Malacca.

Najib said the extremes in weather were characteristics of global warming and climate change.

Malaysia, he said, was fortunate to be spared the worst.
