KUALA LUMPUR: Datuk Seri Najib Razak yesterday expressed the desire to meet his one millionth Twitter follower.

As of 1pm yesterday, the prime minister's Twitter page @NajibRazak showed 1,001,869 followers.

Describing the support as a special moment for him on Twitter, Najib extended his thanks to all his loyal followers.

"The number of my Twitter followers hit the one millionth mark last night (Monday). It was a special moment for me on Twitter. Thank you all," he tweeted yesterday.

Najib said several of his Twitter followers had suggested that he identify and meet up with the one millionth follower.

"I have asked for my one millionth Twitter follower to be identified. I hope we can meet. We are 1Malaysia," he tweeted.

Najib had expressed his desire to meet up and have tea with his 500,000th and one millionth Twitter followers and Facebook fans on a date to be announced.

He had said that the meeting would be his acknowledgement of the support shown by his social media friends during the three years that he had been the prime minister.
