KUALA LUMPUR: Datin Seri Rosmah Mansor will be handling most of the preparations for this coming Raya as Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak is busy with the upcoming general election.

"I told Najib that we needed to repaint the house but he always tells me he's busy. Even when we break fast, he talks about the elections," she said.

Rosmah said it showed that Najib was dedicated to politics and the people.

When asked if she knew when the elections would be called, the Prime Minister's wife said her husband was keeping her in the dark.

"When I ask him, he would just tease me and say you'll just have to wait and see'," she said at the Cheras Recreation Centre after handing out duit raya worth RM100 and food to 430 students and special-needs children yesterday.

Yayasan Pendidikan Cheras (YPC) chairman Datuk Syed Ali Al-Habshee said a total of 2,000 children from low-income families and those who had disabilities would receive aid.

He added that over RM400,000 in donations from corporations and contributors would be distributed to needy individuals selected by YPC and Cheras Umno Youth.
