KUALA LUMPUR, March 24 (Bernama) -- Jackie Chan. A man for all seasons. Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak is all praise for the Hong Kong movie superstar for contributing much of his time and money to various charities throughout the years.

He said last night was no exception.

Through the auctioning of various merchandise belonging to the martial arts icon, the proceeds will go towards the construction of the Sekolah Menengah Chong Hwa in Kuantan, Pahang.

"It was a pleasure to be at Stadium Darul Makmur Saturday night, together with Jackie Chan, a renowned superstar, philanthropist and role model to Chinese people worldwide," Najib said in his latest post in Facebook Sunday.

He said the government acknowledged the importance of education to the Chinese community and various initiatives were implemented towards ensuring they were not left out in the nation's development.

During a dinner and charity show hosted to raise funds for the construction of the school Saturday, Najib announced an additional RM3 million donation from the government, on top of the RM2 million given earlier.

"I hope that with this, we have helped to fulfil the request of the Chinese community," added the prime minister.
