KUALA LUMPUR, April 2 (Bernama) -- Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak on Tuesday congratulated 50 outstanding Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia (SPM) 2012 students who have been awarded the National Scholarship 2013.

In his latest tweet, he also advised the recipients not to forget the role played by their parents and teachers in their academic success.

The students received the scholarship from Deputy Prime Minister Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin at a special ceremony in the federal capital yesterday

Under the scholarship programme, recipients would be sponsored at the preparatory level until their first degree in the government-accredited field they choose to study, locally or abroad.

The programme was introduced in 2010 involving 30 students who had achieved excellence in the SPM 2009; the number was increased to 50 in 2012 following the glaring increase in the number of students who obtained outstanding results in the SPM 2011.
