JOHOR BAHRU, April 10 (Bernama) -- Johor DAP vice-chairman Ong Kow Meng has finally admitted that the party was facing a split under the leadership of Dr Boo Cheng Hau.

Stressing that Cheng Hau had promised to resign as party chairman after the 13th General Election at a state committee meeting on April 7, Kow Meng added that party members would be urged not to nominate him for the state election in October if he failed to honour his word.

The factions were expected to unite with the backing down of the chairman, he said, hoping that Cheng Hau's successor would be more flexible and capable of making compromises.

The squabble between Senai assemblyman Kow Meng and his 'boss' started after he and 16 party divisions moved a motion of no confidence against Dr Boo's leadership.

Meanwhile, he said the party leadership's decision to give the Segamat parliamentary seat to Johor Parti Keadilan Rakyat chairman Datuk Chua Jui Meng should be respected in order to maintain unity.
