TAMBUNAN, April 25 (Bernama) -- Parti Bersatu Sabah (PBS) president Tan Sri Joseph Pairin Kitingan has dubbed Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak "political doctor" for his capability in treating the nation's problems.

He said like a medical doctor, Najib would listen to the problems related to him before noting the relevant data in order to give immediate "treatment".

"This political doctor will then bring the data to the 'workshop' to obtain ideas, including from the private sector, in finding the best solutions for the people," he said in his speech at the launching of the Sabah Foundation tour programme at Pisompuruan Square, here, Thursday.

"Hence, I want the people of Sabah to exercise their right this May 5 and not let go this 'political doctor' as the opposition could only promise the moon and the stars while having no excellent record as a yardstick of their performance," he added.

Also present at the event were the foundation's director Tan Sri Datu Khalil Datu Jamalul and Tambunan assistant district officer (development, Robert Stidi.

Pairin said while the government was busy implementing various transformation programmes for the benefit of the people, the opposition chose to run down the government through the social websites to draw voter sympathy.

"If you compare, there is no government that is as good as the Barisan Nasional (BN) government in showing concern for the people's plight by giving them various forms of aid.

"The situation is different in the opposition-controlled states where there is no calm as the people have risen, demanding for the promises made to them to be fulfilled.

"They (opposition) are unlike BN, which upholds its slogan 'Janji Ditepati' (Promises Fulfilled)," he said.

Pairin, who is the BN candidate for the Keningau parliamentary seat and Tambunan state seat, was also confident that BN could retain both seats in the 13th general election, based on the big turn-outs at the programmes organised by BN.
